Now here I go again
I see the crystal visions
I keep my visions to myself
It's only me who wants to wrap around your dreams
And have you any dreams you'd like to sell?

Dialogue

MAX	Thank you. Tonight we're going to play one of the greatest albums of all time, start to finish. It's an album of love and betrayal, of hope and dreams, part rock & roll soap opera, part therapy session... the fact that it even exists is KIND of a miracle.	LX 95
JO	Most of the drama and mystique surrounding the album is due to the fact that the band was made up of two couples, both in the process of breaking up: Stevie Nicks and Lindsey Buckingham, who had been dating since college, and John and Christine McVie who had been married for years. Even Mick Fleetwood's wife was asking for a divorce because she was having an affair with his best friend. The situation was... not ideal. So how do you work in a studio all day with a person you used to love, but now you can't stand? How do you even communicate? Fleetwood Mac did it through SONGS ; with lyrics they sang at each other.

NEVER GOING BACK AGAIN

<dialogue cont over underscore> And while Christine's came from a place of love, and Stevie's came from a place of hope, Lindsey's were a little darker; a little more... pessimistic. He was over it.
